BEIJING—SOME CALL HIM FLASHY GOD. But the man himself says, no way, he is simply Lightning Bolt.

Others disagree. They think he is Superman.

On the eve of his 23rd birthday, the fall of historic hyperbole, Jamaica's Usain Bolt made the Olympic event more magical on Wednesday when he became the first man to win the Olympic sprint double with two world records, blazing the 200-meter gold in 19.28 seconds.

Bolt won by the biggest margin since the 200 came on the Olympic scene 188 years ago, in a sport dominated by hundreds of sprinters, he beat the field by two-thirds of a second.

"Everything came together tonight and I just blew my mind and blew the world's mind," he said after his lightning run.

Already well ahead coming off a tight bend that was supposed to be his only challenge, the Jamaican didn't coast for the first time in the Games and bettered the world record of American Michael Johnson—now

Palace: No more MOA

No signing of agreement with MILF in present form

By Michael Lim-Uhan and Lella B. Salazar

MALACANANG ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT THAT IT would not sign a controversial deal on an expanded Bangsamoro homeland in its present form.

Press Secretary Jesse Durano said that the Arroyo administration was reviewing the inconstituentality of agreement (MOA) on ancestral domain in the light of statements made by several justices during a hearing last week upholding the deal and the outbreak of violence in Mindanao.

"They conducted terrorist activities there," Durano said, referring to attacks mounted by guerrillas of the Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) in at least five provinces in Central Mindanao that had left scores of civilians dead, including women and children.

"The position of Malacanang is very clear. We will not sign that, whatever the ruling of the Supreme Court will be," Durano said. "We will await the ruling of the Supreme Court, but the decision had been arrived at, we will not sign the MOA in its present form."

Asked if the government had informed Malaysia and the powerful Organization of the Islamic Conference, which backed the accord, Durano said that Presidential Peace Adviser Benigno Aquino III had been tasked to do this.

Court spokesperson Jose Mito Marquez told reporters earlier yesterday that the high tribunal would resume its hearing today on petitions to strike down the MOA, unless the Arroyo administration makes a categorical statement that the deal is off.

Marquez said that Tuesday's motion by Solicitor General Aguirre Desavesera asking the tribunal to dismiss petitions against the MOA has failed to do this.

PAMPANGA, REP. JUAN MIGUEL "Mikey" Arroyo, President Macapagal-Arroyo's older son, said he supported congressional discussions on Charter change (Cha-cha) but would want the changes to take effect only after his mother's term ends in 2010.

Arroyo said he did not mean to feed allegations that the President wanted to stay on beyond the two years left of her term.

"It's like making pasta. It takes long to cook because it needs a lot of ingredients. So we can talk about how to cook it [and] we can already buy the ingredients," he explained the process of Charter change.

"That is should only be moved after 7 p.m. when it's hottest time," he said.

The son said an agreement will be hard yet to reach his comments about Charter change and would not comment on whether his mother's fellow Pangasinan would leave the President's reelection bid.

"I have yet to actually say something. But if I were to be followed, Charter change should take effect only after 2010 so that there is no association that the President wants to extend her term," Arroyo said.

"I am only interested in any talk regarding Cha-cha because they are in the context of the peace process," he said.

Committee note on Tuesday

The House committee on constitutional amendments will meet on Tuesday to vote on whether to set in place Charter change.

To Union Rep. Vene Inigo, chair of the committee, said that if the committee wants to adopt Charter and if it has enough time during the hearing, it would vote to set on when made this should take.

Charter change has received renewed attention in the House after the President announced that her administration would support congressional moves to adopt a federal system government to accompany a proposed agreement with the secessionist Moro Islamic Liberation Front and create an independent Maguindanao state.

The shift to a federal system would require that amendments be made to the Constitution.

The President's political opponents claim, however, that her intention go beyond constitutional revision for Ferdinand to open the Charter to the kind of tampering of incumbent officials, himself included.

MEF rampage might stop it

But the violent rampage of the MILF in North Cotabato and Lanao del Sur could soon well end to Charter change being rejected, said a House leader.

Senate Rep. Gregorio Aguirre, a rival chair of the committee on constitutional amendments, said he need to support Cha-cha for purposes of adopting a federal system and MILF which attacked civilians in the two provinces over the past two weeks.

"My theory is a compromise will still come to Charter change because of what has happened in Mindanao," Aguirre said.

"Indecision to those people is a different concept, not total surrendering," he said, referring to the MILF's demand for a 50 percent vote.

Speaker Prospero Nograles agreed with the idea of going slow on Cha-cha and scheduled in light of the civilian killings and the burning of churches in Mindanao over the past weeks.

But he said there should be a transparent public debate on Charter change.

Senators, who represent various regions in the first session from Mindanao.

Mindanao lawmakers have criticized the government power used which targeted the MILF for agreeing to include more than 700 insurgents in several Mindanao provinces in the proposed Bangsamoro homeland to be governed by a Bangsamoro Authority.

They said they would demand a referendum to establish the region and even abolish the MILF.

The tempo administration in the past weeks had expressed support for Senator Minority leader Aguirre President's son Ferdinand. It has written to Congress a consistent desire to adopt a federal system.

The House already has a constituent measure filed by Union Rep. Antonio Carano, House Joint Resolution 14, which is a new "without a vote" copy of the President bill.

Privilege Speech delivered by Congressman Jui P. Pilol, North Cotabato 2nd District, before the 2nd Regular Session of the 14th Congress, August 11, 2008.

Peaceful Co-existence is the Call of the Day

Tonight, as sporadic fighting rages in my province, and as the MILF starts raising their flags in their occupied areas, Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak about my birth place Mindanao and share with you the dreams and aspirations of my family and of my people.

Mr. Speaker, my birth place Mindanao is in the beautiful south. It has shown been and forever it might be, Mr. Speaker.

It has been in the front pages, the talk of the news, and the hot topic of the day. It's no wonder, Mr. Speaker. After all, Mindanao has been, for almost four decades, known as troubled and controversial place in this part of Asia.

And thanks to the play makers, the rebels and wrong doers, Mr. Speaker. They deserve the credit for all the negative impressions of Mindanao.

Mr. Speaker, the status of Mindanao - being referred to as troubled area - will never be erased in the minds of the people in the world.

The shameful reality that in Mindanao there live Filipino families who are the poorest of the poor might never be corrected, Mr. Speaker.

But let us forget, Mr. Speaker, may I ask: where in the country can you find a place where churches, mosques, chapels and fellowship houses are a place yet to people are awakened by uncertainties?

Where in Asia, Mr. Speaker, can you find a place as beautiful as Mindanao - pristine flowing waters, wide open seas, lakes and forest covering vast land and forests, vast fertile lands, and most of all, the most ideal climate free from the winds of typhoons, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. Speaker, may I also ask which place in the country are so gifted with abundant natural resources and mineral deposits, from copper and silver to gold? Ah, no place can come close to Mindanao, Mr. Speaker.

Lucky Mindanao, Mr. Speaker. You the wealth and resources of Mindanao cannot be squandered at this stage and time, Mr. Speaker.

But why does Mindanao play host to these poster of the poor family, Mr. Speaker?

Why is there never ending conflict and trouble in Mindanao, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. Speaker, I venture to say that Mindanao's dismal and sorry condition are by-products of some leaders' indifference and sloppy people's greed.

Yes, Mr. Speaker. Since time immemorial - from the Spanish, the American, and the Japanese - all these foreign invaders have looking in mind but their ulterior and vested interest for Mindanao, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, these colonizers did not come to Mindanao to uplift the quality of life of each and every Mindanones but to amass its resources.

Moving, Mr. Speaker, the Spanish, American, and Japanese moved in Mindanao to harvest not to cultivate, to get not to give, and to extend not to promote development, Mr. Speaker.

Clearly, Mr. Speaker, these foreign visitors of Mindanao who came in early years, only viewed Mindanao as a wealth, a pot of gold, worthy to be possessed.

Yes, what are important to them are the interests and other precious resources of Mindanao, not its people. This is the reason why they refused to build fruitful co-existence, Mr. Speaker.

And so, Mr. Speaker, our country's leaders, past and present, have barely changed motives and perception towards Mindanao and its people.

Despite the nobleness of their motives and apparent honesty of purpose, Mr. Speaker, our leaders were not able to deliver justice and strategies to lift the quality of life of each and every Mindanones, Mr. Speaker.

This is so, Mr. Speaker, because our government has mismanaged Mindanao. They are only the heart to the trees, Mr. Speaker.

Moving, Mr. Speaker, our leaders recognize only

CHILDREN OF PEACE. Flanked by young tri-people, former Cotabato Governor, now Vice Gov Hanry F. Pilol conceptualized the Children of Peace program in 2003 as a dynamic approach to address the escalating distrust among Muslims, Christians and other tribes. The Vice Gov believes that understanding each other's culture will redound to lasting peace and development in North Cotabato.

others and tribal leaders not the fishermen; and our government officials look only to the demand of rebel commanders not the cries of the children and spouses of first poor combatants, Mr. Speaker.

Worse, they - as a government - failed to provide the economic and concrete assistance to truly assist and develop each and every family, Mr. Speaker.

Every time there are peacekeeping development in Mindanao, Mr. Speaker, our government leaders have the propensity to immediately offer these to multi-national or foreign investors.

Our leaders in government failed to realize that the purpose of multi-national and foreign investors is to earn profit notwithstanding the welfare of ordinary Muslims or Christians or tribesmen in the area, Mr. Speaker.

Another failure of our leaders, past and present, Mr. Speaker, are their other helplessness in asserting moral and governmental authority in Mindanao.

Many times, Mr. Speaker, our government stood mute on crucial issue that gives an impression of weakness in the eyes of well-meaning citizens including the rebels and those still planning to be.

But the greatest blunder of political leaders, past and present, Mr. Speaker, is their failure to prescribe the right medicine to the illness of the people in Mindanao.

Like a physician in hurry, Mr. Speaker, our government leaders prescribed quick relief pharmaceutical called GRP-MILF Peace Agreement, believing that peace and order problem is nothing but slight fever that affects Mindanao.

This government failed to realize, Mr. Speaker, that Mindanao troubles and disturbances which are akin to fever is caused by a much serious infectious disease called poverty.

Yes, Mr. Speaker, poverty is the serious illness that spawns all troubles, all the upheavals and the never ending conflict in my beloved Mindanao, Mr. Speaker.

Yes, our leaders acknowledged persistent poverty in Mindanao, Mr. Speaker. But sadly, their formula of solving the poverty problem is lacking in spirit and in measure, Mr. Speaker.

They believe that remodeling mega infra projects and national highways will answer the poverty problem of Mindanao. They are wrong, Mr. Speaker.

They entered into peace agreement with a rebel group and declaring there after that Mindanao was more lasting peace. That is an exaggeration, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, these mega infra projects only facilitate the best interest of multi-national and multi-nationalists not exactly the poor Mindanones who hardly have a voice on their first, Mr. Speaker.

The peace agreement being entered into by our government with a rebel group is also apparent, Mr. Speaker. It is more meant to "release" rather than to achieve lasting peace in Mindanao.

Faced with this situation, Mr. Speaker, what shall our government do?

Mr. Speaker, if we are honest enough, if we are sincere enough then let us promote the welfare of each and every Mindanones not the amount of foreign investment or moneyed individuals.

If we are determined enough and brave enough, Mr. Speaker, then we should adhere to the principle of peaceful co-existence among all tribes in Mindanao not in division or fragmentation, Mr. Speaker.

Maybe we are of different religion and belief, Mr. Speaker. Maybe we differ in culture and tradition.

But Christians, Muslims, and other tribal groups in Mindanao, Mr. Speaker, have but one aspiration: to live in peace along with each other, Mr. Speaker.

In fact, Mr. Speaker, inter-tribe tensions between Muslims and Christians are happening almost everywhere in Mindanao, Mr. Speaker. Yes, that is true, Mr. Speaker.

So, if a Muslim husband and a Christian wife can build one happy family, why don't we promote and encourage this scenario so that we can have one big happy Mindanao family, Mr. Speaker?

Lastly, Mr. Speaker, I would like to emphasize this.

Our family, led by my brother, Vice Gov. Maanoy of North Cotabato who spearheaded the filing of a petition in the Supreme Court to stop the signing of the GRP on Ancestral Domain, is not against the Muslim or Muslims as some groups wanted to project.

We have lots of friends who are Muslims, many of our political supporters and allies are Muslims. I love my birth place North Cotabato in Mindanao, Mr. Speaker.

Reason why when my new sons were born in mid 1980's, Mr. Speaker, we have their baptism with Muslim names - Saipay Omar, and Adam Maumi. Both are new given up degree holders, proud of their Muslim names, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, we are one and we will never be against any do-gooders in Mindanao, be they and in truth, Mr. Speaker, be the Christians, the Muslims and the tribal groups are fighting a common enemy - poverty. Yes, poverty is our real enemy, Mr. Speaker.

And together we can defeat poverty, Mr. Speaker, if this government will make sure that every tribe of Mindanao and shall become productive.

We can defeat poverty, Mr. Speaker. If our government shall make sure that every citizen of government assistance shall trickle down to the ordinary Muslims, Christians, or tribesmen not to commanders or tribal leaders alone, Mr. Speaker.

We can surely defeat poverty, Mr. Speaker. It can ordinary income, Muslim or Christian, remove either of his own land are the multi-national, sponsored individuals or foreign investors.

Mr. Speaker, I would emphasize this again: defeating poverty, not peace talks with rebels is our assurance of lasting peace in Mindanao.

And last, Mr. Speaker, the call of the day is peaceful co-existence among Muslims, Christians and tribal groups in Mindanao.

This is not dream, this is our aspiration - peaceful co-existence!

Mindanao gili nga salamat nga magmamay-ayon gili nga ibang laban.

ENDING RIBBILION. Cong. Pilol believes that poverty is the root cause of Mindanao conflict. Sustainable agriculture will defeat poverty. A farmer is the source of oil palm harvest. What You Should Know About the MOA on Ancestral Domain Between the Government and the MILF

What is the Memorandum of Agreement on Ancestral Domain (MOA-AD)?

The MOA-AD is a memorandum of agreement between the Government of the Republic of the Philippines ("GRP") and the Moro Islamic Liberation Front ("MILF"), which came about because of the Tripoli Agreement executed in 2001 between the GRP and the MILF.

What is the Tripoli Agreement between the GRP and MILF of 2001?

The Tripoli Agreement of 2001, signed on 22 June 2001, provided the framework and the guidelines for the conduct of peace negotiations between the GRP and the MILF.

In it, the GRP and MILF tried to resolve three issues in the peace process: (i) ancestral domain, or the Muslims' historical claim of the southern Philippines as their homeland; (ii) security arrangements in MILF areas; and (iii) rehabilitation of communities affected by armed conflict.

The MOA-AD contains the terms and conditions agreed upon by the GRP and MILF on the ancestral domain aspect of the Tripoli Agreement.

What does the MOA-AD say about the ancestral domain owned by the Bangsamoro people?

Under the MOA-AD, there is created a Bangsamoro homeland and historic territory referring to the land mass as well as the sea, land and airspace embracing the entire Mindanao Sulu-Palawan geographic region.

Does the MOA-AD affect the legitimacy of the Republic of the Philippines? How?

Yes. The MOA-AD questions the legitimacy of the creation of the Republic of the Philippines as a result of foreign colonization and the granting of independence to its inhabitants in 1946.

It identifies a "distinct people, with a distinct identity, occupying a distinct territory" which were forcibly disposed or displaced. It distinguishes the Bangsamoro people from the Filipino people and creates a Bangsamoro Homeland within the territory of the Republic of the Philippines.

It also ignores the Philippine Constitution, which is not even mentioned in the MOA-AD.

If the Bangsamoro homeland includes the present ARMM, what will happen to the ARMM government?

The ARMM will be replaced by the Bangsamoro Juridical Entity ("BJE"), which shall have the authority and jurisdiction over the ancestral domain and ancestral lands and natural resources of the Bangsamoro Homeland.

Is the creation of the BJE authorized under the Philippine Constitution?

No. The BJE is not an authorized political unit under the Philippine Constitution. It is not merely a local government unit as it exercises powers that are greater than those given to other local government units.

It is also not merely an autonomous region since it does not operate within the framework of sovereignty or territorial integrity of the Republic of the Philippines.

The Constitution provides that local government units and autonomous regions shall be under the supervision of the GRP. But according to the MOA-AD, the Bangsamoro Homeland's relationship with the GRP would be merely associative, characterized by shared authority and responsibility.

What will be the BJE's authority over the natural resources within the Bangsamoro homeland?

1. Jurisdiction and control over all natural resources, potential sources of energy, minerals and fisheries;
2. Full economic jurisdiction over all its internal waters;
3. Joint jurisdiction, authority and management with the GRP over its territorial waters, which means that the BJE must agree if the GRP wants to conduct the following within its waters:
 - a. Exploration and utilization of natural resources;
 - b. Establishment and use of artificial islands, installations and structures;
 - c. Marine scientific research;
 - d. Protection and the preservation of the marine environment;
 - e. Conservation of living resources;
 - f. Regulation of shipping and fishing activities;
 - g. Enforcement of police and safety measures;
 - h. Regulation and control of coastal and deep-sea of prohibited materials and substances, including smuggling.

What happens to the permits and licenses granted by the GRP/ARMM?

The BJE is allowed to unilaterally revoke or cancel all existing permits, concessions, and titles granted by the GRP/ARMM parties.

1. Forest concessions, timber licenses, contracts or agreements in the utilization and exploitation of natural resources, including strategic minerals, mining concessions, Mineral Production and Sharing Agreements (MPSAs), Industrial Forest Management Agreements (IFMAs), and other land tenure arrangements of any kind or nature whatsoever;
2. All proclamations, laws, rules, policies, rules and guidelines declaring old growth or natural forests and all watersheds.

Can the BJE by itself conduct foreign relations? What happens if BJE is allowed to do so?

Under the MOA-AD, BJE can conduct its own foreign economic relations without supervision from any GRP authority. It can enter into agreements with any foreign country. The only exception is if the agreement will constitute aggression against the Republic of the Philippines.

The BJE can also fully participate in any border negotiation of the Republic of the Philippines, as well as in all international meetings and events, i.e., ASEAN meetings and other specialized agencies of the United Nations.

What are the immediate legal effects of the MOA-AD?

The MOA-AD is immediately binding by its express provisions, upon signing by the parties.

It is not a mere listing of contentious points but a firm agreement to be witnessed by the Philippine Special Adviser to the Prime Minister, to be enforced by the special envoy of the Organization of Islamic Conference, and to be further witnessed by the Philippine Secretary of Foreign Affairs and the Philippine Minister of Foreign Affairs.

In fact, many countries were invited to its aborted signing ceremony. Some of the provisions of the MOA-AD have effects, and some of these effects are immediate, in international law.

What are the effects of the MOA-AD in international law?

1. It confers recognition on Bangsamoro people as a distinct people, with a distinct territory, with a fairly sophisticated political organization, conducting foreign affairs and entering into treaties;
2. The "First Nation" was unlawfully dispossessed of territory they held from time immemorial, and that the present Republic of the Philippines continued this dispossession requiring compensation;
3. The purpose of MOA is to entrench this distinct people in its historic homeland so it can maintain its distinct identity vis-à-vis the rest of the national communities;
4. The Republic of the Philippines could be construed as recognizing that BJE to be created is but the continuation of the prior state that existed before the unlawful occupation of foreign and inland waters;
5. If the MOA-AD is construed as a recognition of the BJE's unilateral declaration of secession by the MILF may create a new state;
6. The conflict in Mindanao is further internationalized, possibly justifying foreign intervention.

Many of us support FEDERALISM as a means of empowering local governments for progress. But this MOA-AD is not about federalism. It lays the groundwork for secession.

We support the right of our Muslim brothers to self-determination, but this should not come at the expense of our country's sovereignty.

We also question the timeliness of amending the Constitution now, during the last stage of the present administration's term.

Int'l groups plead for 'Tagaytay 5'

MANILA, CITY—MORE INTERNATIONAL groups are sending letters of appeal to the regional trial court (RTC) judge handling the resolution of the five farmers detained allegedly for being economic guerrillas, the wife of one of the arrested said on Wednesday.

Laura Fernandez, wife of Aron Fernandez, one of the farmers who are also known as "Tagaytay 5," said groups and individuals based in Belgium, Hong Kong and Japan had sent Tagaytay RTC Judge Edwin Larcha letters regarding the release of the five farmers and asked for their immediate release.

Fernandez said the Hong Kong-based Helen Human Rights Foundation, based in London, in Action Alert in Belgium and individuals from Japan had been contacting the development in the Tagaytay 5 case.

The groups also threatened some of the results of the Tagaytay 5 with the copies of the letters received, she said.

She added that local groups, like the labor union Workers' Assistance Center, peace group Katarungan and the Tagaytay Paliguan have chosen not to make a public statement.

Two years ago, a group of five farmers and an insurgent in the Marikina group Katarungan, Edgar Maguiness, in Marikina (Marikina-Kat Kat Paliguan and Kat Kat Paliguan), and former drivers Ben Yano and Michael Yano were charged with some violations by 20 armed men in police officers who later on identified themselves as policemen.

After previously said there was sufficient evidence to implement the law, since a big amount of money, equipment, documents and firearms were recovered from them.

In a copy sent to the judge, the wife later said it was stated that the five had been detained for two years "without any legal order for their charge or conviction."

"Reluctantly and publicly worded description is a human rights violation. Therefore, we appeal to you (Judge) for the immediate dismissal of the complaint," the group said in the letter signed by six of its leaders.

It also mentioned in the letter that it had paid a visit to the detainees. Aron Fernandez, Katarungan's leader.

Mayor faces rape over soda brand
 THE MAYOR of the city and 13 other officials have criminal and administrative cases over the sale of two public goods, including with the Coca-Cola brand and brand name.

President Arroyo and Vice President Duterte charged Mayor Jose Marasigan and 13 other officials of the Davao City government for allegedly selling Marasigan's brand on Tuesday.

Marasigan said on Tuesday he would not comment on the complaint until he gets a reply.

The complaint said the mayor and the other officials actually turned the city into a big distribution center for Coca-Cola.

"They City used to be the provincial center of arms and robbery, and during the '70s of Marasigan, had used it to deliberately collect money as 'Coca-Cola City' because its two public markets look like two cans of Coca-Cola," the complaint said.

LRT lines lose P4M from fires

LGUS, firms asked to remove hazards near railway stations

By Rita T. Ochoaides

THE LRT SYSTEM HAS LOST HUNDREDS OF thousands of passengers and millions in revenues as a result of six fires that occurred in a span of eight months near its structures.

Data from the Light Rail Transit Authority (LRTA) showed that six fires led to eight days of partial suspension of operations.

The suspension affected some 283,000 passengers and resulted in losses of more than P4 million.

To avert similar problems in the future, the LRTA is asking local governments and other government agencies to eliminate fire hazards near the overhead catenary's facilities.

Most affected by the fires was the Baclaran Station in Pasig City.

A three-day fire that broke Aug. 18-20 the Baclaran Transit Station ended its southbound service to the displacement of 29,261 passengers and revenue losses of about P60,000.

Losses

Two fires affected Cardo Station in San Jose, Manila. The Aug. 4 fire lost 31 the eighty-eight Cardo South Station and the displacement of over 84,000 passengers in just one day.

The LRT Libertad, Baclaran and EDSA Stations in Quezon City were similarly affected when the Pasig Plaza Mall burned down on July 11.

A fire on June 20 closed the 36 Avenue station in Calabarzon City for one day.

On April 18, the Cardo and Marikina stations in Pasig City, Manila were affected by a fire near Carriageway between Marikina and Alabang Station.

A fire that struck the Gallano Station in Marikina on Jan. 3 affected operations at the LRT Baclaran, Nida and Libertad stations.

Almost 65,000 passengers were displaced and P80,200.00 in revenues were lost as a result of the fires.

There were no fire incidents between Jan. 2008.

Last year, three fires hit in December, that affected 57,214 passengers and resulted in revenue losses of P50,110.

Combining the 2007 and 2008 figures, the LRTA said it had lost more than P4.6 million in revenues, and more than 334,000 passengers.

Meetings

LRTA Administrator Arlene Llanera said in an interview that the situation would be addressed in meetings to talk plans with the Department of Interior and Local Government and local government leaders to assess where LRT1 and LRT2 facilities are located.

Navotas offers free driving lessons for mobile patrol cops

By Nancy Canjal

NAVOTAS CITY IS OFFERING free driving lessons to police officers after providing them with patrol cars.

City Mayor Tedy Yangson said the local government would pay for driving lessons of police officers residing in the office.

Yangson said the project was part of the local government's campaign to enhance police skills in fighting criminality. He said this apart from the free lessons, the city government would also pay for the policemen's drivers' license for one year.

The mayor said every driver should have a license, whether or not he was a policeman.

Yangson said the local government's support for law enforcement was meant to ensure that the city was kept safe, secure, and protected by a well-equipped and well-trained police force.

Before the new patrol cars were distributed, the mayor said he made sure police officers driving these had valid drivers' licenses.

Navotas donated recently 10 new patrol cars equipped with radio communication equipment and global positioning systems in the local police force.

City police chief Ismael Igo, Jr. said the local government's support was a morale booster for the police.

"We welcome every opportunity and endeavor that could enhance our capability to do our job efficiently," Igo said.

Jet inferno at Madrid airport kills 153

Budget Spanair plane veers off runway, breaks up and catches fire

MADRID—INVESTIGATORS ON THURSDAY examined the wreckage of a Spanish budget airline jet that broke up in flames after a failed takeoff from Madrid airport, killing 153 people.

Police and psychologists continued damage relief efforts through the night as questions were asked over how an engine of the Spanair MD-82 jet reportedly caught fire during takeoff from Madrid's Barajas airport.

Making its second attempted takeoff, the jet veered off the right of the runway before breaking up and the quickly spread through the broken pieces. "Hell at Barajas," said the Public prosecutor denounced the disaster on Thursday.

Some of the 117 survivors managed to walk away from the disaster, but others were killed or injured in a wide area of the field beyond the runway, according to police.

Flight 6032 was to take 162 passengers—including two babies and 20 other children—from Madrid to Las Palmas in the Canary Islands. Transport Minister Mariano Rajoy said 150 people were injured or killed. The 117 survivors were brought from Barajas Air airport and were overwhelmed about the situation, saying there was "no doubt that it was a disaster."

The head of Madrid emergency and rescue services, Brigada Central, said the bodies were not found in a wide area, and some of the survivors were able to "walk away" from the disaster.

As the airport, although not a hot bed of fires, of course, was surrounded by police and psychologists. A special flight brought relatives who had been waiting in Las Palmas for the flight.

Spain's second largest airline after Iberia, it lost the lives of passengers late Wednesday, but not their lives. Relatives, Spanish media and the Government, however, said a Chilean and a Colombian were among the survivors.

The flight was a co-joint venture with Iberia and the German airline Lufthansa. The flight had arrived at a La Palma flight in Madrid to take the flight to Las Palmas.

Said, the Spanair airline, which was flying a 162-passenger jet, had been set up in Madrid.

Pakistan ruling coalition headed toward collapse

ISLAMABAD, PAKISTAN—Former Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif's party threatened on Thursday to quit Pakistan's ruling coalition over judges ousted by its central president were quickly arrested—killing hopes of an end to the crisis.

The two main parties, which had been united primarily in their hatred of former President Pervez Musharraf—who drove up who should succeed him as president and ended the former general's rule—were headed for a split.

Already the coalition's biggest loss, the Pakistan People's Party (PPP) threatened to be the first to quit. The PPP's support for the coalition was based on its support for the government of General Musharraf.

Diver Fabriga winds up RP Olympic stint

By Ted S. Malabanan

BEIJING—RYAN REVEL FABRIGA CLOSED OUT THE NATIONAL TEAM'S final campaign at the Beijing Olympics last Friday when he competed in the 30-meter platform qualification stage at the Water Cube aquatic center.

The 14-year-old, 1.38 m Fabriga is not among the favorites expected to secure a berth in the semifinals based on pre-event rankings in Fabriga's final competition, which starts at 7 p.m.

The height limit of 30 divers indicates Fabriga's world-class talent. His last jump was a 3.0, the second-ranked entry, which earned him a total of 10.0 points in the 2006 World Series in Hong Kong.

Fabriga finished his first jump at the Olympics by finishing fourth in the final phase of qualification. The 2006 World Series in Hong Kong was his last jump at the 2006 World Series in Hong Kong.

Foreign donors buck gov't rice subsidies

Push cash transfers to directly fight poverty, inequality

By Corrie S. Naruna

THE FOREIGN DONOR community has backed the government's efforts to expand its direct cash subsidies for the poor while phasing out "top-down programs" such as rice subsidies. In a special Philippine Development Forum organized to help the country handle an onslaught of high food and fuel prices, well-known and less-known led by the World Bank also agreed to support such an initiative and to use rice subsidies as a transition measure to address the impact of policy reforms on poor farmers.

However, argued that with the implementation of a modern social protection system, the need for rice price stabilization and rice distribution will diminish over time," the World Bank said in a statement on the hall of the donor community.

Development partners also offered assistance to improve social systems, including the education

Expect more free time. Here's how.

Time for yourself and for your family has never been more precious. While nothing can be perfectly planned to the last minute, it's still possible to set aside time for both.

Search for tips on how to prioritize, maintain a work-life balance and discover your free time hiding in the corners of every day.

SCHEDULE FOR SUCCESS

Keeping a schedule is an effective tool to coordinate the information in your life. A well-planned day prevents us from running out of time and keeps us ahead of the daily race for success.

PRIORITIZE YOUR DAY

A to-do list scribbled in your notebook or on a sticky note can be good enough to remind you of what you have to accomplish for the day. But don't forget to indicate which activities are most important to start with those.

PLAN FOR THE MONTH

For the busybody, with meetings, appointments and events scattered all throughout the month, keep a detailed planner. Use the calendar program on your mobile phone or your calendar to your schedule wherever you are. A good bonus: people you work with will appreciate how you value and respect their time by being prompt with submissions or meetings.

STRIKE A WORK-LIFE BALANCE

Don't forget to include non-work related activities in your schedule. You can keep separate schedules for work, friends and family but make sure they don't overlap; otherwise you may have to choose between Mom's birthday party and an important client's dinner invitation.

IDENTIFY YOUR TIME WASTERS

What eats up most of your time? Do you spend your lunch hour lining up to the bank or in the Bayed Center? Or maybe you are spending yourself too thin.

multi-tasking to the extreme and saying yes to everyone's requests. Are these things essential to your daily, weekly or monthly goals or do they merely keep you from doing what's most important?

RE-THINK YOUR ROUTINE

We've been so used to doing things in a particular, usually old-fashioned way even when there's a simpler and faster way to do them, it may take you some time to learn and get used to a new method you'll soon realize how few changes such you make time for yourself.

DISCOVER ALTERNATIVES

Take advantage of new paths that help you reach your goals with less effort. Instead of lining up for a bank transaction, ask your bank if they offer online, phone or mobile banking. Instead of doing everything yourself, learn to delegate your tasks and learn to say no to requests especially when your schedule is already filled up with urgent concerns.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF 24/7 BANKING

RP to lure tourists with Pinoy brands

Move aimed at rivaling neighboring countries' grand sale' promos

By Ronald K. Daragang

FINALLY, THERE WILL BE A shopping festival in the Philippines that will rival neighboring countries' grand sale' promotions, which send tens of thousands of tourists to shop in their bargain-hunting cities.

However, this one called "September Shopping in the Philippines 2008," is aimed at foreign shoppers and those who do not even leave home.

It's the largest shopping festival that has foreign tourists in the Philippines for shopping. It's the Pinoy brands. And getting to know about it from his own country, "September Shopping in the Philippines 2008," is the purpose and mission of his target markets abroad, tourism secretary Joseph Lee Orosa is putting the Philippine brand as an international shopping destination.

A collaboration between the local industry and the Department of Tourism, the campaign is also meant to create new markets for retailers amid dampened demand due to inflation. The initiative was launched during the opening of the 15th International Travel Conference last Aug. 13-17.

"The retail business is adaptable in that it could ride on whatever industry is booming. Today, the tourism industry is booming," says Orosa, chair executive of the Philippine Retailers Association.

Lee said it was high time for the country to have a big shopping event considering that earlier this year, there had been campaigns like Malaysia's Mega Sale, Indonesia's Thailand Grand Sale, Great Singapore Sale and even the Dubai Shopping Festival.

Orosa says that unlike the other shopping events, the event one was not about high brands and big discounts.

"September Shopping is about the quality and affordability of what we will have in the Philippines, which are consumer goods for everyday use," Orosa explains. "We are targeting the Asia-Pacific market."

He says that he had always got feedback that tourists were impressed with the quality of made-in-Philippines products despite their relatively lower prices as well as the hospitality of local shopkeepers.

"There are not the types of products that are so expensive that consumers have to wait for a very important occasion. These products range from clothes, shoes, shoes and bags, the usual wear to some products like games and fashion accessories, all of the way to gift items made of low traditional materials for accessories and other consumer products that are sometimes very Filipino."

"They (foreign tourists) love coming in the Philippines because they love our local brands and our products are everywhere," Orosa stressed.

"Our aim in the September Shopping will be seen in Japan,

It's NOT the imported designer brands that lure foreign tourists in the Philippines for shopping. It's the Pinoy brands.

Korea, Hong Kong and other parts of the Asia Pacific, including India and Spain," Orosa said. "We have our own approach compared to that of our neighbors in Southeast Asia, so this does not undermine the initiative to promote a 'Love Asian destination'."

He is referring to efforts among members of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations to package the region as a unified tourism destination, partly to help countries that may be losing tourists to the region if considered alone.

"We know that tourists have right margin now, the last thing we want to do is ask them to give discount," Orosa says.

"We can compete without having to go head-on. It's a matter of finding a market segment that appreciates the type of shopping we provide—the local Pinoy."

"The September tag is just a deadline for the retailers to join the campaign, which will continue after that," he says. "So big most of the retail trade had signed up."

The Department of Tourism aims at the travel industry putting a total of $5.4 billion in tourist spending this year, which is already way past the $1 billion target for 2010 that was set two years ago.

Asked why September, Philippine retailers only join, Orosa says the local tourism industry had been busy "battling in the summer months," but now the focus is on the value of the visit.

"This is part of our continuing efforts to focus on higher-value activity," he explains. "The difference of our campaign in shopping is that this is not a grand sale. It's mostly about the Pinoy brand and its all-year-round campaign."

The tourism chief adds that after September, the DOT and the retailers would come out with another campaign that would sustain the momentum.

"So the tourism, the benefit will be visible," he says. "We have had tourists telling us that they are attracted to shopping for Pinoy brands of T-shirts, shoes, etc., not because of a sale but because these are affordable and affordable."

For the moment, the tourism is participating in the campaign in the creation of a new market base considering that the domestic market has been, as Orosa described it, "already saturated."

At the same time, the DOT also says the group was preparing a proposal to the government for a refund of the value-added tax for tourists.

"Other countries have had that for some time now," Lee says. "It's about time that we do, and it would help attract more tourists to visit here."

The pants and the pendulum

IT USED TO BE ALL ABOUT headlines, or how many inches they should fall above or below the knee.

But these days, the pendulum has swung back towards the pants. Skinny or baggy? Cropped or flared? Low- or high-waisted? Tight or wider? Take your pick.

Instead of being obsessed with wearing the pants otherwise don't normally buy (even if it's not the most flattering cut for you), think out all the options on their own. The good news is today's pants have found some style.

Like last year's trend has been spread online, the huge pants. Looks like MC Hammer has not been relegated to pop parody...at least not his signature "briarwood" pants, which were popular in the early '90s.

Even Madonna, who made a habit of 90s, has been seen in larger trousers, which have been made into leggings. And

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE

Expect more rewards that fit your passions

We'll take you farther.

Almost all credit cards say that they offer rewards. These rewards come in many different forms — sometimes points, sometimes miles, sometimes cash — which makes you ask: Which reward is right for me?

BPI Express Credit allows cardholders to earn points for all their purchases with the frequent flyer, hotel, and car rental programs. As with other credit cards, points can be used to redeem a reward of choice from a catalog. No cash, since the points don't expire. No fees, since all items are delivered for free. The only challenge will be choosing among the many items available.

But wait! In addition to the frequent flyer points you earn, BPI Express Credit gives you reason to expect more rewards with Real Thrills, an instant rewards system that issues a fun item of choice — where you frequently shop, dine and travel. How often and what? So you can get the rewards that fit you most instantly, effortlessly.

Rewards that fit you

The instant begins when you pay with your BPI Express Credit card. It's the first in the market to carry a smart chip that tracks and punishes or you can be rewarded with a discount or bonus based on your spending habits. Real Thrills is so smart that the more you shop online at a partner's website, the more interesting your rewards will be.

Real Thrills

The best part is that you can get your reward almost effortlessly. Real Thrills automatically calculates your accumulated discount and number of points on your card when you shop or travel online, no need to ask. Make it a habit to check your charge slip and see what's in store for you.

Instant gifts that thrill you more

And it doesn't end there. On top of the frequent flyer points, the discounts, and the Real Thrills, now allows you to get instant gifts as small as when you use your BPI Express Credit card. Spend as low as 1,000 pesos ANYWHERE and instantly get a Real Thrills reward.

BPI Express Credit has partnered with some of the biggest food chains in the country to ensure that the instant gifts are easy to claim. Previous instant gifts include Jollibee (Spaghetti and Burger Sets) as well as Chowking (Halo-Halo and Ito's Toppings). Next comes Greenwich, where you can expect to get a FREE Madness Meal from August 1 until October 31, 2009. Choose from a Hawaiian Pizza, Beefy Bacon Macaroni, Savory Beef & Mushroom, and Chicken, all King. All Madness Meals come with a regular-sized soft drink.

Just shop and spend at least P1,000 ANYWHERE!

Prize period is from August 1 to October 31, 2009. To redeem, simply present your BPI Express Credit card and submit your original charge slip (minimum charge receipts of P1,000).

Madness Meal Choices: Hawaiian Pizza, Beefy Bacon Macaroni, Savory Beef & Mushroom, and Chicken, all King.

The pants and the pendulum

If the thought of baggy pants scares you, there are always the median alternatives—skinny flares or the wide leg ition has also jumped on the not-slippy trend, leaving tight and baggy trousers. But if the thought of baggy pants scares you, there are always the median alternatives—skinny flares or the wide leg. This year, wide-leg pants, cut wide from the hips down, have made a big comeback, thanks to runway gods.

Wide legs are desirable, sure, versatile, and can be worn with high heels or flat. Pair them with blouses or belted tunics, to avoid a sloppy, frumpy silhouette. Skinny flares, also known as light boots, retain the figure-flattering flare at the hip and thigh, but skirt out at the bottom.

The slouchy style, worn on models like Katie Holmes, is an other for trend. Fear this with caution, however, as it may go the way of the floppy blazer: It's best to pair the look with striking, killer heels.

Of course, if you're still fixated in your slouch, there's the also-rising trend for you: It's heaven-sent for those can't-live-without-the-legs.

Each claim to fame, at one time with millions in sales, always goes to report some with a victory at one. Self-expression, so always, is key.

FASHION 101 The right frame, the right shade

by David Epperson

WE KNOW SUNGLASSES FOR their primary purpose—for protection from the sun, for hiding our eyes, for simply for making one outfit more interesting. When it comes to design and style, we usually look up to some of our favorite Hollywood celebrities for inspiration. However, just because Nicole Richie looks good wearing water-resistant lenses in that Pki with a shock pink, doesn't necessarily mean they would look as fabulous on you.

Like clutches, sunglasses have to look flattering to your face features. Know what shapes of sunglasses only pair face features, and what shade looks good on your skin tone.

Good faces:
• There are many faces that look good with this face shape. As long as the size of the frames is in proportion to the face.
• It is a better to go with square-shaped frames.

Bad faces:
• Round to square frames look best on oblong-shaped faces.
• It is better to go with frames that cover as much of the corner

• Choose square or rectangle to frames to even out the look.

• Frames that are as wide as your face will make the widest part of your face. This gives the face a longer shape.
• To play down the roundness, select frames with straight or angular lines.
• Squared corners which or for those who maintain fullness.

Square faces:
• Complement a square face with frames that are slightly round.
• This will soften the angles of a square face.
• Make sure to pair shades, glasses.

Heart-shaped:
• Square sunglasses are best for heart faces.
• Thin, angular shades will

• Give away from wide sunglasses that will draw too much attention to a wide forehead.
• Keep the following things in mind when choosing sunglasses that pair face shape:
• The edge of your frames should be a bit wider than the widest part of your face.
• When choosing link-link sunglasses, use or pink frames.
• Cool shades look great in white, black, and other frames.

Grand beauty fair

WOMANS DEPARTMENT STORE is giving customers a free makeover at its month-long beauty fair "All About Beauty."

There's a huge price-off on select cuisines, fish and seafood, and heavy products, plus a chance to win shopping spree and cooking toolbox. The fun runs until Aug. 31.

Whether it's a woman in a hot new, potter project, or a night-out on a weekend family adventure, looking natural is the way to go.

Admission offers include books, music, CD, tape, literary and other items inspired by the show.

■ Go green. Fresh, lively, colorful and seasonally accented with pale yellow or orange eye shadows are great for any mood and occasion. There's a show-positive bluish and if there is muted orange lower-lid shading by glass look as low line. These blend well with wear as often as a bright tone of green eye shadow. Top it off with ribbons or green eye paint, and you're ready to gain attention.

• Fruity in pink pastel. Get your face lit from within shades of pink. Use simply with warm, frosty shades of pink just like that light, just-pieced doll skin. Blushes like chestnut and apply light glow to enhance cherry lips. Pink, like a lavender makeup, is either your longevity or surprise, but always brings out your features.

• Beachball blues: Unlike a balance between girlie and edgy with sequin-embellished chaps, midnight blue tux, opaque fishnet and sheer black lacework for a glamorous evening.

color to blanch, hence her glowing pink white complexion.

Wing Arian, one skin tone is yellow-based, so get the pink flush with blush.

Do not aim for white skin, aim for smooth even-toned skin which means going back to your newborn skin color which is more important.

1. Go for weekly body scrubs and follow down up by putting on exfoliating lotion. In the daytime, put on SPF 15 sunscreen.

The DTY body scrub, you may try the 44. Looking The Mineral Body Cream Tint, The Body Shop papaya, Lush Chick sugar scrub to eliminate white nodules.

2. If not pregnant or conceiving, go for the estrogen-releasing cream with black tea. Botox body scrub can be massaged by use of baby's coconut oil like the wing and whitening body lotion. Tip: Ask your doctor or dermatologist if it affects the treatment and explains about the package charges.

Whitening

3. Glutathione - the master antioxidant that prevents cancer, detoxifies the body, improves eyesight, memory and sleeping habits. It is known best for its skin effect - inhibiting melanin production, resulting in whiter skin.

The fastest way to achieve a sloughy complexion directly to the skin by double dose down works tonight, then once a week for hair weeks, lasting 10 days.

Those who are pregnant should not take Glutathione. But they may take the solution to other parts.

Get glutathione in cream and it may take over a year for those with naturally dark skin to show visible lightening of skin. Use cream inside the skin by taking three tablets a day.

The $1,500 approach per pack of 30 tablets, glutathione tablet is expensive, but it's still cheaper than 30 glass white cream around $1,000 a dose.

Drinking pink glutathione tablets may not help when the skin becomes so melanized as it too large and only travels into the digestive tract before they can run through the rest of our body. They need something to "carry" them through the rest of the body like Alpha Lipoic acid, NAC (N-acetyl cysteine) and Vitamin C, which all serve to boost glutathione levels in the body. So look for glutathione tablets containing these.

Pharm (have used) offering TV Glutathione Glutathione Tablets has amazing but limited potency and this Glutathione (which is not a full size of Vitamin C) serves to boost glutathione levels with better, but not enough, the Vitamin C is more expensive - at $1,500 a month.

Re Botox, call 8442707. The Natural Beauty is located in Southside High Street and Victoria 4.

Glutathione is available at Glutathione Skin Cream. Some cream are available at Vitamin and Biotin ($447.00). Lucky Chai Skin Cream is available at Beauty Box, Beauty and Natural hair care products are available at 8442707.

Trend alert: winged eyeliner

This holds especially true for applying liquid eyeliner for a cleaner and more precise liquid liner application. Brush out the excess liquid on the back of your hand before lining your eyes. And if you want complete control, use the card that makeup artists use - a thin straight brush that is perfect for liquid liner application.

Be precise: With enough precision, lining your eyes should be quick and easy.

The trick is to apply the liner in sections while gently holding the skin of your upper lid. The three sections are the inner upper lash line, the middle upper lash line and the outer upper lash line. Using short strokes while holding your eye against natural resistance. And if you are still apprehensive, draw small dots or dashes to outline the direction of your line and connect them," says Balle.

Be steady, too: No matter how careful you are when applying makeup, mistakes happen. Some advice is to keep cotton swabs and eye makeup removers handy. And when you make a mistake, don't panic. Simply dip the cotton swab into the eye makeup remover and use it to erase any messy lines or erase any mistakes. The cotton swab can also be used to smudge the liner for a softer look.

Line the inner eye shape: Different eye shapes require different liner techniques. It is all about enhancing your eyes.

"Women with wide eyelids can get away with thick but soft liner drawn on their upper lids, while big, round eyes can benefit from a well-defined line that is extended beyond the outer corner of the eye to make the eyes appear larger. Deep-set eyes can be given a lift by lifting the liner upward and inward before it reaches the corners of the upper lids. And women with close-set eyes should line the upper lid line while leaving the inner corners of the eyes unlined to give the illusion of increased distance between the eyes. For almond, when you make a line drawing a dot line on the upper lid line while gradually widening it as the outer edge of the eye. To make the eyes even more, apply your liner in steps or light brown on the lower lids," says Balle.

Wing it: If you're lining with vinyls should be find (there are different kinds) and find out what works best for you. To get the winged eye right, extend both the upper and lower eyeliner to your desired length.

Finish off by applying a bit of white eye shadow on the inner corners of your eyes. And don't be afraid of color. Try liners in shades of purple, blue, brown and bronze.

KOROSCOPE

BY PASCAL DRAKE

THE KORO SCOPES are a series of 100 cards that you can use to tell the future. Each card has a number from 1 to 100 and a prediction. You can use the cards to tell the future for yourself or for others. The cards are easy to use and the predictions are often very accurate.
